Greetings,

2011 marked a critical year for Sister Cities International as we broadened our capacity to create strategic partnerships, expand member outreach, and improve programming to increase local sister city exchanges. Throughout the year, Sister Cities International leadership and staff focused on providing conferences and meetings, grant-funded programs, and various member services to meet the needs of the network and encourage new and innovative programming.

The year began with our 55th anniversary celebration at the Annual Conference in Washington, D.C. bringing together elected officials, sister city members, and organizational partners. The conference introduced new perspectives on citizen diplomacy through roundtable discussions and briefing sessions with region and topic experts from the U.S. Department of State. During an advocacy day on Capitol Hill, members met with over 100 Congressional representatives and staff to share their local success stories and underline the importance of international exchange today.

Supporting innovation and collaboration at the local and national level has become a priority for Sister Cities International, paving the way for two new pilot programs that took place this year. The Global Twinning Summit in Cairo, Egypt brought together leaders of other national twinning organizations, municipal associations, and NGOs to share their organizational challenges, successes, and new ideas on engaging cities in Muslim majority countries. The Regional Conference last fall in Riverside, CA, "Partnering for Success in the Pacific Rim," provided a more accessible one-day event where members from Pan-Pacific cities could share their projects and goals for building their local committees and partnerships.

Throughout the year several grant programs provided by Sister Cities International increased the capacity of our local members and supported their activities. To reinvigorate and support U.S.-Japan sister cities, five U.S. cities received awards to organize business and youth development exchanges with their Japanese counterparts as part of the Japan Foundation's Leading Asia grant. Three U.S. cities were able to engage young people in their community and in their Canadian and Mexican sister cities through the Youth Ambassador Program: Trilateral North America, funded by the U.S. Department of State. Both grant opportunities increased the impact of these international relationships and helped to strengthen these bilateral and trilateral partnerships.

In the fourth quarter, Sister Cities International rounded out an already busy year with the receipt of a new grant from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. The Sino-African Initiative will fund research and pilot projects for the next two years. The grant will concentrate on trilateral partnerships and investigate ways to promote local corporate social responsibility between China, the U.S., and Africa.

As we move into 2012, we will continue our emphasis on building institutional partners to increase access to resources, strengthen local programs through amplified education and training opportunities, and focus on encouraging innovation and new trends within the network. We always welcome member feedback and hope that you will take advantage of all of the resources and services provided by Sister Cities International.

Sincerely yours,

Overview

Sister Cities International is a nonprofit citizen diplomacy association that creates and strengthens partnerships between the U.S. and international communities, promoting peace through mutual respect, understanding, and cooperation – one individual, one community at a time.

Founded by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956, Sister Cities International serves as the national membership organization for individual sister cities, counties, and states across the United States, uniting a network of over 50,000 citizen diplomats, educators, political and business leaders, youth, and volunteers in nearly 2,000 programs in 136 countries across 6 continents.

Sister Cities International helps advance peace and prosperity through educational, humanitarian, and economic efforts, and serves as a hub of institutional knowledge and best practices to benefit today's citizen diplomats, and for generations to come.

Sister Cities International is a proud leader of the citizen diplomacy movement and strives to strengthen the network through strategic partnerships, educational resources for members, public discussions on relevant issues, and key programming to support our members in building and expanding their local programs. We motivate and empower private citizens, municipal officials and business leaders to conduct long-term, mutually beneficial, sister city relationships.

Membership Information

Sister Cities International represents nearly 600 communities in the United States with relationships in nearly 2,000 communities in 136 countries on six continents.

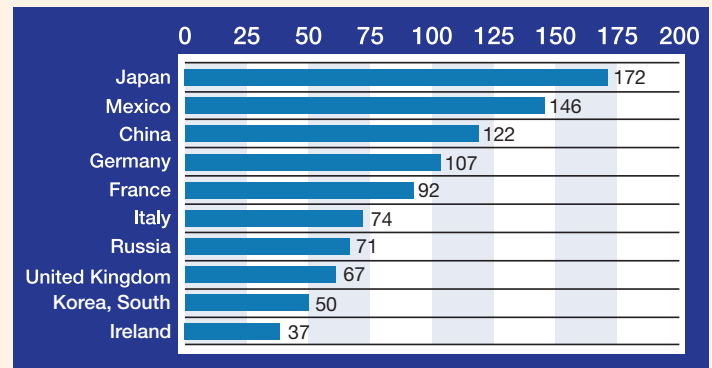

Sister Cities International supports citizen diplomats who promote the organizations' mission of creating world peace and cultural understanding through programming in the areas of cultural exchange, youth and education, strengthening developing communities, and economic development.

A sister city program is a volunteer group of citizens who, with the support of their local elected officials, form long-term mutually beneficial relationships with communities abroad.

Each sister city program is independent and pursues the activities and partnerships that are important to their community.

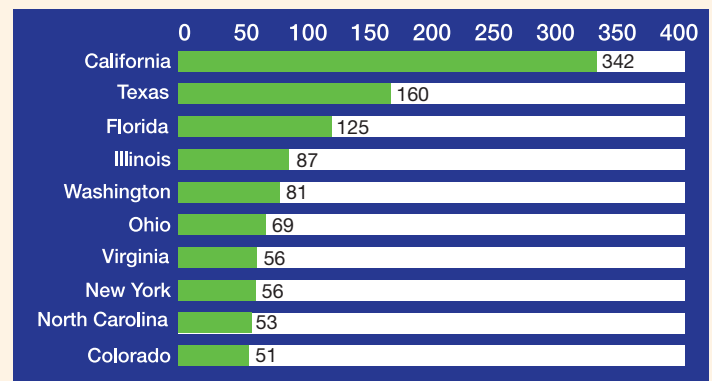

This directory lists our members and their relationships abroad. A quick snapshot of these relationships follows.

2011 Accomplishments

2011 was a year of significant accomplishment and growth for Sister Cities International. A comprehensive set of programs, grants, and conferences rallied members, local and world leaders, and the next generation of citizen diplomats to strengthen communities and partnerships through sister cities programs.

Youth Ambassador Program: Trilateral North America

Thirty-eight high school students from Canada, Mexico and the U.S. took part in the “Young Ambassador Program: Trilateral North America”, an exchange program funded by the U.S. State Department. Over the summer, participants visited Washington DC, and Mexico City, as well as their sister cities. Through workshops, site visits to NGOs, and cultural activities, students explored how community leaders work to address poverty and environmental issues.

Global Sister Cities and Twinning Summit

Sister Cities International’s first-ever Global Sister Cities and Twinning Summit hosted in Cairo, Egypt in September convened leaders of twinning organizations, local governments, associations and NGOs from more than 30 countries. The summit focused on increasing south-to-south city partnerships and sub-national cooperation, and the changing role of citizen diplomacy for the 21st century. A memorandum of understanding was signed between Morocco-based Sister Cities Africa, Ghana-based Africa Global Sister Cities Foundation and Kenya-based Eastern Africa Sister Cities to cooperate on future twinning initiatives in Africa.

Sino-African Initiative

Sister Cities International was awarded a $1.5 million grant from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation in November to support its Sino-African Initiative. The Initiative is designed to address the manner in which Chinese, African, and U.S. cities can collaborate on economic development and urban poverty issues in Africa through research pilot projects.

Leading Asia: Renewing the U.S. and Japan Sister Cities Network

The Japan Foundation Center for Global Partnership awarded Sister Cities International a 3-year grant to bolster U.S.-Japan exchanges. Late in 2011, Sister Cities International selected five U.S. cities from a competitive pool of applications to receive funding for delegation visits to their Japanese sister city to begin new program implementation. The Leading Asia: Renewing the U.S. and Japan Sister Cities Network grant aims to increase institutional knowledge of U.S.-Japan sister city partnerships by providing opportunities for current programs to become more active and for new ties to be established.

Africa Urban Poverty Alleviation Program (AUPAP)

AUPAP is a 3-year, $7.5M project funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to alleviate poverty in 25 African cities in 13 countries through water, sanitation, and health initiatives led by U.S. and African sister city programs. In 2011, the program completed its 2nd year. Six cities have fully implemented projects. The additional 18 projects now have approved contracts to begin implementation.

Webinar series

Sister Cities International, in an effort to increase education and training opportunities for its members, launched a new monthly webinar series in June. These highly popular webinars provided additional learning opportunities for our members. The webinars covered a range of topics including youth engagement, grant writing, green energy projects, and reinvigorating dormant sister city relationships.

Youth Mentorship Program Launch

At the October regional conference in Riverside, CA, 12 bright and energetic youth from around the country were paired with a mentor from the Sister Cities International leadership. The mentee and the mentor continue to connect once a month on topics related to nonprofit leadership. The program aims to increase youth leaders' access to the bank of knowledge that Sister Cities International veterans have to offer.

55th Annual Conference

The 55th Annual Conference in March brought together over 300 citizen diplomats from 20 different countries. Volunteer leaders, elected officials, educators, community activists, and young professionals networked and discussed best practices in people-to-people exchanges, trends, and the future of citizen diplomacy. Attendees heard remarks from special guests such as Senator Richard J. Durbin (D-Illinois), Congressman Michael Honda (D-California), U.S. Department of State Special Representative for Global Intergovernmental Affairs Reta Jo Lewis and numerous topic experts from within the U.S. Department of State and the greater DC area.

Advocacy Day

On March 3, over 200 members visited a total of 100 congressional offices and met their representative or a member of the representative's staff to discuss their sister city's accomplishments and bring visibility to the importance of funding Sister Cities International and the exchanges community as a whole. The participants did an excellent job of promoting the importance of citizen diplomacy today.

Young Artists and Authors Showcase

The 23rd annual Young Artists and Authors Showcase gave youth from around the world the opportunity to artistically express their vision for a more unified, peaceful world. We received 45 art pieces and over 50 essay and poetry submissions on the theme "Shaping Your Community for a Greener Future." Five international and five domestic pieces of thoughtful art, one international poem, and one domestic poem and essay were selected as winners and the entries were sent on tour around the country to nine different sister cities. The grand-prize winners in each category also received a $1,000 prize.

High School Home Stay

25 students between the age of 15 and 18½ from around the world were hosted by their U.S. sister city for a semester or a year of high school through the High School Homestay Program. The local community provided oversight on students activities and included them in sister city projects. This was the 4th year of the program with our current partner, American Cultural Exchange Service.

2012 Initiatives

Over the course of 2012, Sister Cities International will continue to provide a robust array of services to our members. In addition, the organization will continue to establish itself as a hub for citizen diplomacy and further develop and increase access to the global network.

- 1 Enhance communications outreach with a new logo, tagline and website redesign to increase our ability to share the power of our sister cities network and highlight their current programs more effectively.
- 2 Strengthen global citizenship by improving sister cities collaboration, capacity and innovative programming
- 3 Leverage relationships for peace and prosperity by creating partnerships with other institutions and developing models to encourage trade and economic growth through sister city partnerships.
- 4 Reach diverse populations through programming and resources to empower underserved communities.
- 5 Increase youth and young professional participation and awareness of sister city programs in order to encourage and build the next generation of citizen diplomats.

On Charleston's relationship with sister city Spoleto, Italy—

"A whole new world of opportunity came to our city [as a result of Spoleto]...In the 20th century, Spoleto was probably the most important event in the history of our city."

“This afternoon, I will go to visit Iowa, which will be my second visit in 27 years. I am going to tell my old friends there that the “golden keys” presented to us by the representative of the Muscatine City Hall 27 years ago symbolized the opening of local exchanges and cooperation between our two countries. And today, there are already 38 sister province/state relationships and 176 pairs of sister cities between our two countries. Forty-seven out of the 50 American states have seen their exports to China grow several or even dozens of times over the past 10 years. This shows that once open, the door to local exchanges and cooperation between China and the United States cannot be closed by any force. On the contrary, it will only open wider and wider.”

“When President Eisenhower proposed the establishment of a program of affiliation between American and foreign citizen on September 11, 1956, no one could have anticipated how successful it would become in creating imaginative and valuable exchanges in the fields of education, culture, youth, business, local government and professional expertise.”
